

Student Consent to Release Education Records

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, as amended, prohibits postsecondary educational institutions from disclosing most student education records, other than basic directory information, to most third parties without the student's written consent. The Office of Student Data & Registrar can provide information about exceptions.

Saint John Vianney College Seminary ("SJV") and the University of St. Thomas ("St. Thomas") are separate and independent entities. The University of St. Thomas is a private, non-profit, Catholic university. The University of St. Thomas is not affiliated with the Roman Catholic Church or any other religious organization. The University of St. Thomas is not a religious institution. The University of St. Thomas is not a religious institution. The University of St. Thomas is not a religious institution.