202 -202

We encourage current first-year students to attend one of the many information sessions that will walk them through the process of self-selecting their own room for the 2023-2024 academic year in on-campus housing. The random lottery self-selection process is different than the process as an incoming student and attending a session may help you be more prepared for the self-selection process on April 19. Students may attend any session based on their schedule and the content is the same for all sessions.

Information sessions will cover how the process works, the timeline, answer questions regarding the lottery process and other frequently asked questions. The presentation is about 30 minutes with time afterward for questions.
